NAHEP has been formulated by ICAR with a total cost of US$ 165 million (Rupees 1100 crores at the exchange rate of Rs. 66.75 = 1US$) for five years starting from 2017-18. The project is proposed on 50:50 cost sharing basis between the World Bank and the Government of India, implemented at the Education Division, ICAR, New Delhi. Overall, the project aims to develop resources and mechanism for supporting infrastructure, faculty and student advancement, and providing means for better governance and management of agricultural universities, so that a holistic model can be developed to raise the standard of current agricultural education system that provides more jobs and is entrepreneurship oriented and on par with the global agriculture education standards. The mandate of ICAR/DARE includes promotion and coordination of education in agriculture, Agro-forestry, animal husbandry, fisheries, home science and allied sciences in the country. ICAR is now embarking upon an ambitious step in further strengthening the National Agricultural Education system in the country through National Agricultural Higher Education Project (NAHEP) with financial assistance of the World Bank by investing on infrastructure, competency and commitment of faculty, and attracting talented students to agriculture. The project would benefit all the Agricultural Universities (AUs), i.e. 63 State Agricultural Universities modelled on the US Land Grant University pattern, 5 Deemed to be Universities (DUs), three Central Agricultural University (CAUs) and four Central Universities (CUs) with Agriculture Faculty.

The society is also committed to explore the scientific development across the world and has taken initiative to provide a platform to the scientists, researcher, policy makers and scholars to solve and discuss various issues relating to agricultural and environmental development. AEDS had organized first international conference at Sam Higginbottom University of Agriculture, Technology and Sciences, Allahabad, Uttar Pradesh, India in association with Pondicherry Institute of Agricultural Sciences (PIAS), Pondicherry and Centre for Environment & Agricultural Development (CEAD), Pondicherry on November 27-29, 2018 and became a great success with an impressive turnout of around 600 participants from all around the country along with the foreign delegates. The 2nd International Conference was held at Dr. Y.S. Parmar University of Horticulture and Forestry, Solan, Himachal Pradesh on September 27-29, 2019. On this occasion, nearly 800 participants (Scientists, Academicians, Industries Person and Students) were participated globally and discussed their views on the diverse field of Agriculture, Environment and Biological Sciences. The AEDS also conducted various International Conference via virtual mode in collaboration with National and International universities during the global pandemic of COVID-19. In the previous years, the society organized various 21 days National Training Course in collaboration with Central Sericultural Research & Training Institute (CSRTI), Mysore, National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development (NABARD), Rajmata Vijayaraje Scindia Krishi Vishwa Vidyalaya, Gwalior (Madhya Pradesh), College of Horticulture and Forestry, Central Agricultural University Pasighat-Arunachal Pradesh and Sher-e-Kashmir University of Agricultural Sciences and Technology of Jammu. The AEDS is continuously working for the welfare of rural and land less community of the country and also making people aware for sustainable agriculture.

About the International Conference

Sustainable development is a fundamental principle for meeting human development goals while at the same time sustaining the ability of natural systems to provide the natural resources and ecosystem services upon which the economy and society depend. The challenges associated with environmental sustainability make it essential to bring together the disciplines of the agricultural, environmental and biological sciences to address the today's environmental challenges for sustainable development. This conference will also bring out the significance of the biological science and forests for sustainable development and food security as forests support sustainable agriculture by stabilizing soils and climate, regulating water flow, providing shade and shelter and providing a habitat for pollinators and natural predators of agricultural pests and when integrated judiciously into agricultural landscapes, trees can increase agricultural productivity. The broad scope of sustainable development suggests that virtually any social, economic or environmental process or challenge amenable to scientific understanding may potentially be relevant. Emergence, meanwhile, could signify the novelty or intensification of some of those issues, fresh understanding of their causes or consequences, the development of new management options, or the identification of issues that have gone previously unrecognized. Therefore, the present international conference “Current Issues in Agricultural, Environmental and Biological Sciences for Sustainable Development (CIAEBSSD-2022)” provides a forum to discuss such emerging issues and advances in the areas of agriculture, environment and biological science to promote the sustainable development of our society. The international conference will be a best amalgamation of eminent scientists, researchers, scholars, and students who will share the latest developments in the relevant fields to promote the sustainable development.
